

Please keep the "Do not call law" in effect..in todays busy life, the last thing we need is to spend more time trying to get pushy people off the phone, & it seems to always be at dinner time, a time of day that is most important in keeping up with family. The only time of day that the entire family is together. Also, it is most irritating to get these calls on your cell phone when you're in a meeting or out taking care of life in general. I appreciate the support in this matter. Thank you for your time.
